

WORSHIP SURVEY RESULTS

Thank you to the 182 people who completed our Gathering Worship Survey. Most responses were completed electronically, with 8 people sending a printed copy of their surveys to us via US Mail. We are grateful for your input, suggestions, and support.

As you may know, we began outdoor in-person worship on April 24, 2021 at 5PM. We are planning to begin in-person indoor worship on Sunday, June 6, 2021 at 10AM. Based on the survey results (see below) we believe we are on the right track.

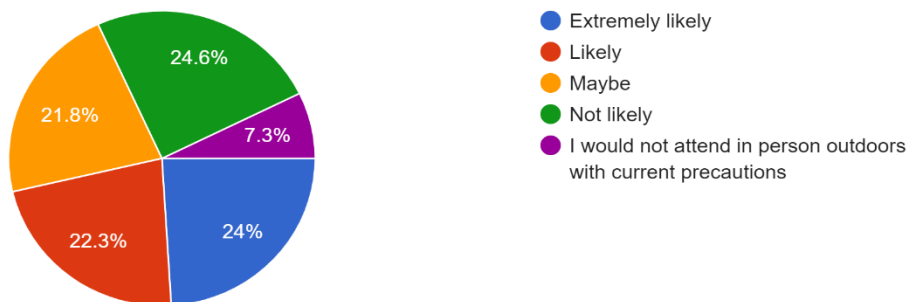

Both our Saturday and Sunday worship services will continue to be livestreamed on Facebook, with a recording of each service available later on both Facebook and YouTube. While many of you are anxious to return to in-person worship, 43% of respondents told us they plan to worship either primarily online or equally online and in person.

Our quilting groups have resumed in-person gatherings, and other groups are making plans for their future gatherings. Many are anxious to resume in-person fellowship and service, however not everyone is ready for that yet.

We appreciate the comments, suggestions, and questions many of you included in your survey responses. While we are not addressing those individually in this report, broadly we can say our Community Center ventilation meets CDC guidelines for air circulation, and we are currently developing plans for communion. We will be communicating these plans with you as they develop. Please check out the survey results below and contact anyone on the church staff if you have questions or additional concerns. Thank you.

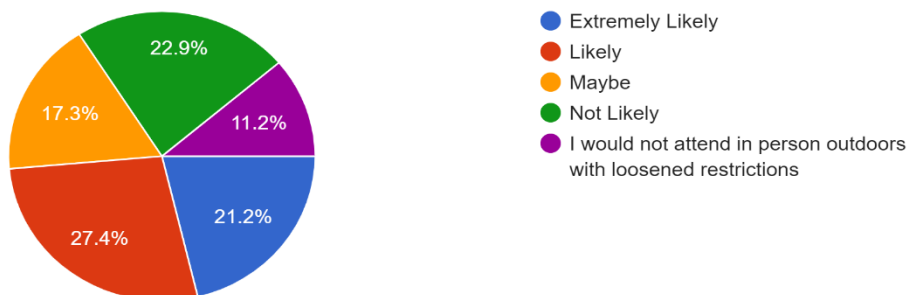

If we gather outdoors for worship in-person beginning April 24, 2021, how likely are you to attend with current precautions (bring your own chair, bring your own communion elements, wear a mask)?

179 responses

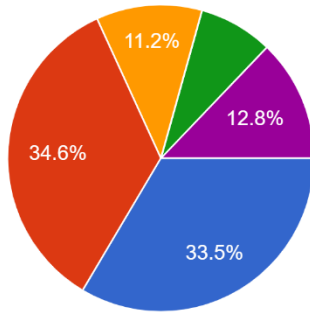

If we gather outdoors for worship in-person beginning April 24, 2021, how likely are you to attend with loosened restrictions (we would provide com...quired to bring your own chair and wear a mask)?

179 responses

How likely are you to attend indoor in-person worship starting June 6, 2021? Our indoor worship will be in the Community Center and masks will be required (per state guidelines).

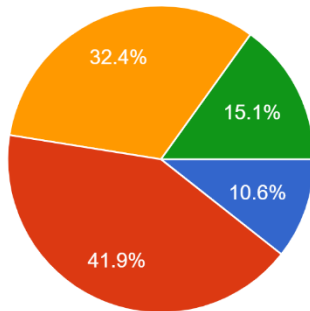

179 responses

- I am extremely likely to attend indoor worship right away
- I would probably attend indoor worship right away
- I am not likely to attend indoor worship yet. Maybe in a few months.
- I am not likely to attend indoor worship for the foreseeable future.
- I'm not sure what I will do

Many in our church community have found livestream or on-demand worship convenient and enjoyable. Please tell us your thoughts regarding online and livestream worship.

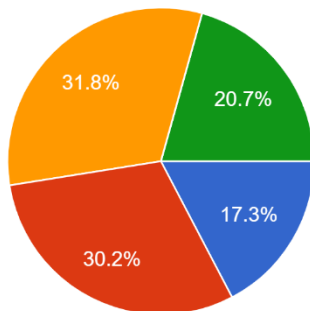

179 responses

- I will continue to worship primarily online
- I expect to worship primarily in-person
- I expect to worship equally in-person and online
- I'm not sure

Now that restrictions are loosened, how likely are you to attend in-person functions other than worship, such as Bible Study, Choir practice, Keenager meetings, or WIN dinners?

179 responses

- I would definitely attend one or more in-person functions right away
- I would probably attend one or more in person functions right away
- I would prefer to wait awhile before attending other in-person functions
- Not Applicable. I have not participated in other in-person functions in the past.